

SLZ STREET LAW ZAMBIA

Practical legal education for Zambia's youth

LOCAL:

Developed with Zambian students and implemented by Zambian teachers.

RELEVANT:

Based on problems identified by WJP's Rule of Law Index.

PRACTICAL:

Created with students' attention spans and critical needs in mind.

SUSTAINABLE:

Advanced by ongoing training for local Zambian teachers.

- PHASE 1 Teaching 2-day intensive Legal Empowerment Seminar to 35 Zambian youth as preliminary means of surveying whether a practical legal education curriculum could bolster existing education. Receiving grant support from World Justice Project to develop pilot curriculum for secondary schools.
- PHASE 2 Training Zambian lawyer/educator by lawyers and educators in Washington D.C. and Seattle, Washington.
- PHASE 3 Identifying program partners: four underprivileged secondary schools in Lusaka, Zambia (three classrooms at each school), local bar association members, educators, government leaders, and other stakeholders.
- PHASE 4 Developing 12-week pilot curriculum focused on gender-based violence and police brutality/responsibility. Collaborating between Zambian lawyer/educator, American lawyer, professors, and others.
- PHASE 5 Training local secondary school teachers to implement pilot curriculum. Emphasizing interactive learning.
- PHASE 6 Co-teaching 12-week pilot curriculum by Zambian lawyer/educator and local secondary school teachers.
- PHASE 7 Surveying students on effectiveness of program and on their knowledge of human rights and Zambia's Constitution. Compiling survey information for use of Street Law Zambia textbook.
- PHASE 8 Creating (complete) Street Law Zambia textbook and distributing to youth. Implementing program in other secondary schools in other regions of Zambia. Expanding financial support structure to increase organization impact.
